BEYOND SALARY: STRATEGIES FOR YOUR SALARY/BENEFITS PITCH

Joanie Moran
Recruiter
Interviewing is a two-way street. Both the Hiring Manager and the candidate are interviewing each other to determine best fit.

It’s a Job Seeker’s market. Hiring Managers need to compete for candidates and “sell” the opportunity.

How?

---

FOUR STEPS TO GET TO “YES”

1) Optimize the interview.

2) Manage the candidate journey.

3) Think beyond salary: UW perks & benefits.

4) Sell the opportunity!

> What motivates your candidate? Ask them:
  – Why they applied for the position; what they bring to the table; to compare this job with their current role

> Highlight the:

- culture
- opportunity for growth
- department, school or college
- onboarding and training
- mission
- benefits
- position’s importance

Every touchpoint (direct, indirect) is an opportunity to engage the candidate.

The candidate experience is critical to successful hiring.

Focus on the relationship. Make it personal.

Does the candidate feel valued and needed?

MORE THAN RESUMES
Perhaps you have extended the best offer that you can – and cannot offer a penny more.

UW Perks & Benefits:

> An array of comprehensive medical and dental plan options with virtually no waiting period
> Generous leave accruals and paid holidays off
> Tuition exemption
> The Whole U’s health and well-being programs
> Growth potential into a variety of staff positions

OTHER PERKS AND BENEFITS TO CONSIDER OFFERING

> Work / life balance
> Alternative work schedules
> Telecommuting
SELL THE OPPORTUNITY

Anticipating negotiation in this job market is a must.

> Know the facts
> Optimize the interview
> Follow our four steps to “yes”

UNIVERSITY of WASHINGTON
LET'S TALK ABOUT BIAS...

BIAS IN THE SCREENING PROCESS

What are the most common biases?

Bias in the resume review

What messages are we sending?

How do we minimize it?
MOST COMMON BIAS

Resume
- Stereotype
- Halo or horns
- Similarity
- Opportunity hoarding
- Confirmation
- Contrast effect
- Anchor

Interview
- Intuition or gut
- Personal discomfort
- Bandwagon
- Non-verbal
- Beauty
- Performance
- Confirmation

---

BIAS IN THE RESUME REVIEW

- Name
- Address
- Education
- Gaps and duration
- Previous employers
According to a recent Harvard study, what percentage of Asian and African Americans have “Whitened” or “Americanized” their names to improve chances of getting a job?

36%

REFLECTION

What presumptions can be made simply by looking at a candidate’s name? Why is this problematic?

- Ethnicity or race
- Gender
- Religion
- Socio-economic status
- Stereotype threat
“STEREOTYPE THREAT”

...A situational predicament in which individuals are at risk of confirming negative stereotypes about their group. It is the resulting sense that one might be judged in terms of negative stereotypes about one's group instead of on personal merit...

~Oxford

ADDRESS

What are some ways an address can trigger bias in the screening process?

- Out of state applicants
- Long commute
- Socio-economic status
- Affluent area
- Proximity
EDUCATION

What are some ways education can trigger bias in the screening process?
- Top schools vs small schools
- Affinity or alumni
- HBCUs, all gender, and online universities
- No formal degree
- International school
- Combination of education/experience or equivalent

PREVIOUS EMPLOYER

What are some triggers for bias with previous employer?
- Corporate
- Family business
- Small company or start up
- University or public sector
- Elite company
- Title variances
GAPS

Most people view gaps in employment as a “red flag,” but what are some valid reasons for gaps?

- Travel
- Further education
- Start a business
- Family or raise children
- Illness or taking care of a relative
- Fired or unemployed...so what?

WHAT MESSAGES ARE WE SENDING?
LANGUAGE OF ANTI-DIVERSITY

- Is that a creditable school?
  - Strong accent/ no accent
  - “Culture fit”
  - “Ideal” or perfect candidate
  - Feel it in my gut

- Desired: Master’s degree
- They look so young
- Desired: Experience w/ UW systems
- Too direct or too reserved
- “Professional”

- I can see myself hanging out w/ them
- Over-qualified
- How would we accommodate them?
- First impression are the most important

HOW DO YOU SHOW UP ON YOUR SELECTION COMMITTEE?
BIAS: HOW DO WE MINIMIZE IT?

Once we receive an applicant, we have to ensure they are evaluated equally.

Reflection: How does your current process support your ability to differentiate candidates (without bias)?

- Competencies = Skills, knowledge, and characteristics needed to perform essential duties
- Cues = Observable behaviors that reflect competencies
- Interview questions = Behavioral, technical, scenario, open-ended
- Ratings = defines when criteria is not met, met, or exceeds criteria
IN PRACTICE...

Competency & Cues

- Competency: Flexibility
- Definition: open to different and new ways of doing things. Able to adapt or change approach when necessary
- Cues:
  - Seeks other perspectives and insight
  - Adjust to changing circumstances (projects, deadlines, priorities)
  - Accepts new team members and working styles

Interview Questions

Behavioral: Please provide an example of a time when you had to adjust your approach to work collaboratively with a co-worker?

Technical: Tell me about a time you had to learn how to use a new tool at work. How did you learn it?

Open-ended: What tricks and techniques have you learned to make your job easier or your work more effective?

Situational: You have an important project due tomorrow, how do you keep up with your day to day tasks?

LOOK FOR CULTURE ADDS

"Culture add" refers to the various forms of diversity that add value to your team and department.

Some questions to consider when defining "culture add" for your team are:

- What characteristics, personality traits, and skills gaps do we currently have on our team?
- What competencies and skills are needed to meet the needs of our current and new customers (students)?
- What does diversity look like on my team or in my department?
- What cultural perspectives and lenses will better help our team meet the needs of our department?
WHERE CAN YOU START?

- Map out your process
- Candidate evaluation form
- Audit your bias
- Don't hire yourself
- Educate yourself and your team
- Actively promote DEI
- Innovative outreach
- More experience does not always mean most experienced
- Educational and work experiences may be a sign of more privileges vs more skills

THERE IS NOT A ONE-SIZE FITS ALL SOLUTION...
Thank You!

FEEDFORWARD DON’T FEEDBACK!

Ujima Donalson, AVP
Total Talent Management
The new 21st century focus is on Performance Improvement and Performance Involvement!

1. Performance Improvement - partnership with employees that is future-focused rather than memorializing the past.

2. Performance Involvement - engaging, developmental and growth focused activities.
   - Regular performance feedback from leadership - conversations about performance that help to improve performance and productivity. It can also improve service quality and is linked to up to a 10% increase in overall productivity.

FORGET ABOUT TRADITIONAL PERFORMANCE MANAGEMENT…

1. Feedback - provides both assessment and accountability, allows the employee to know where they are currently, and where they need to be.

2. Feed-forward - provides guidance, direction, description of experience, and forecasts possibilities
   - Establishes goals
   - Provides support and encouragement

3. Frequent Coaching - provides a regular cadence with which an employee can expect performance information that creates the space for performance improvement
   - Frequent interactions help maintain focus, enable effective tracking, calibration, adjustment and optimization

---

3 ACTIONS NEEDED TO POWER 21ST CENTURY PERFORMANCE IMPROVEMENT

---
A defining characteristic of performance coaching is the frequency in which performance information is exchanged.

Coaches help individuals perform better by:

1. Establishing relationships with employees
   - Trust established by seeking to know the employee's goals

2. Giving critical feedback and direction
   - Constructive tips are given to move forward

3. Encouraging hearts and develop minds
   - Support efforts, connect and invest in the employee's purpose

The new feedback tool is less of an accountability measure and more of a diagnostic one:

- This type of feedback is actionable, and can be quickly incorporated ‘real time’ into work to meet goals and increase productivity.

Feed forward allows room for:

- Robust/ honest conversations to take place where learning is identified and growth is celebrated.
  - Addresses missteps, listens to employee thinking, gives advice for improvement, provides encouragement and support to try again.
SO WHAT ARE YOU NOT SAYING?

- Utilizing traditional annual performance appraisals alone fall short because they don’t forecast or prepare the employee for the future, rather they solely rehearse the past.

- Roles have evolved over the last 15 years. We need employees with deeper expertise, more independent judgment and better problem-solving skills.
  - Several organizations no longer measure their employees against annual objectives because their objectives rapidly change. Agility has become a greatly valued competency.

- According to current Gallup Research, only half of employees know what is expected of them in their current role. This is alarming and points to the need for a shift in how performance reviews are conducted.

HOW DO I CREATE A CULTURE OF ENGAGEMENT? ONE THAT ATTRACTS THE BEST TALENT AND MAKES THEM WANT TO STAY!

1. Organizational culture matters: The intangible things matter, i.e. relationships, work environment, and work-life balance, truly influence engagement and organization perception.

2. Work peers lack connection: According to Gallup- only 24% of employees feel connected to their fellow coworkers. There is an increasing need to create a more inclusive work environment where everyone can thrive.

3. Engagement and performance are directly connected: Employees feel more valued when you invest time into helping them improve.
4. Organizations need to recognize employees more:
   According to Gallup, only 25% of employees feel valued at work. Considering how simple it is to recognize your employees for their hard work, it should be done more often. A simple “thank you” or “good job” can do.

5. Lack of growth opportunities: According to Gallup, just over one-quarter of employees feel they have opportunities to grow within the organization. It will be a challenge to hire top talent if you cannot offer them room to grow. You also risk losing the talent you have because of stagnation.

CREATING A CULTURE OF ENGAGEMENT

FEEDFORWARD!

- Look for opportunities to create realistic roles
- Outline success and request input
- Constructively discuss missteps
- Talk about the future & possibilities
- Establish goals
- Provide support & encouragement for reaching the next level of performance

---

WE’VE GOT THIS!
WHY PEOPLE LEAVE & WHY PEOPLE STAY

Professor Tom Lee
Foster School of Business
Tri-Campus HR Institute
October 16, 2019

TODAY’S OVERVIEW

- Self-introduction of Tom Lee
- Brief overview of research history
- The 21st century ideas
- What research says about managerial practice
WHO IS TOM LEE?

> Back in the mists of time (1970’s), Southern California Edison Co.
> Began studying turnover in 1982 (dissertation)
> UW since 1983 (only academic job)
> PhD, University of Oregon, 1984
> Former: AMJ Editor, AOM President & Associate Dean for Faculty (for 12 years)
> Took my first sabbatical ever in 2017-2018

WHAT DO WE KNOW: THE MOST COMMON PREDICTORS OF TURNOVER

+.45 Intention to quit
+.34 Intention to search for another job
+.40 Active search for another job (serious v. casual)
+.56 General withdrawal cognitions
+.31 Absences
+.23 Perceived alternatives
-.29 Organizational commitment
-.28 Job Satisfaction
-.26 Job Embeddedness
-.20 Job Engagement
-.08 Job performance
CAUTION ABOUT CORRELATIONS

- Example: 25 yrs cigarette smoking & cancer Average correlation: $r = 0.08$

- Ranges (Correlation changes for certain groups: Advanced degree, college grads, high school grads, high school students & high dropouts)

- Actionability
SOMETIMES IDEAS ARE...

Too intuitive, too powerful, and too consistent
They stall thinking and action (show stoppers)
- Ptolemy
- Copernicus
- Galileo
- Newton
- Einstein
- Maslow

ABSOLUTELY VALID IDEA STOPPER...

Decades of theory and research tell us that if you (a) don’t like your job and (b) have somewhere else to go, the likelihood of leaving increases.
THE UNFOLDING MODEL

> Introduces concept of ‘shocks’ – critical events prompting thoughts of leaving as turnover driver
> Identifies multiple turnover paths: script-based, job-offer, affect-based leaving
> Applies a decision-making model called Image Compatibility as Basis for Rapid Job Comparisons
> Turnover Speed–Leavers Prompted by Shocks Leave Quicker than Dissatisfied Leavers
> Generally Valid but DOES NOT Fit All Situations.

EXAMPLES OF ‘SHOCK’

> Performance Message Shocks
  – “Gave management position to a less experienced person”
> Disagreement Shocks
  – “My manager gave me feedback in front of everyone”
> Family Shocks
  – “My husband got a job in Texas”
> Job Offer Shocks
  – “I found a job near home and won’t need to commute”
> Organizational Shocks
  – “I learned my department was in jeopardy”
Time permitting: Path 1

- Shock: Yes
- Sign: +, 0,-
- Matching script: Yes
- Job Dissatisfaction: Not relevant
- Job Search: No
- Examples: trailing spouse, return to school, completion of paid training

Time permitting: Path 2

- Shock: Yes
- Sign: -
- Matching script: No
- Fit analysis: Yes
- Job dissatisfaction: after shock occurs
- Job Search: No
- Examples: ordered to participate in an illegal act, September 11
Time permitting: Path 3

- Shock: Yes
- Sign: +, 0, -
- Matching script: No
- Fit analysis: Yes
- Job dissatisfaction: Relative only
- Job search: Yes
- Rational analysis: Yes
- Example: unexpected job offer

Time permitting: Path 4

- Shock: No
- Matching script: No
- Fit analysis: Yes
- Job dissatisfaction: Yes
- Search: 4A: No; 4B: Yes
- Rational analysis: 4A: No; 4B: Yes
- Examples: “dislike job, find another job”
UNFOLDING MODEL: THE SURPRISES

- Many events are off-the-job
- Many events are positive
- Many leavers are satisfied
- Money is secondary for many people
- Event-scripts precipitate leaving

WHY PEOPLE STAY: JOB EMBEDDEDNESS

- Unfolding Model, Embedded Figures Theory & Field Theory
- “Stuck” or Emmeshed in a Field of Social Forces
- Three Dimensions: Fit, Links & Sacrifice
- Two Components of Each Dimension: organization & community
- Typically Measured via Questionnaire
- Reliable and Valid Predictor of Turnover
JOB EMBEDDEDNESS ALSO PREDICTS...

> Job performance & helping behaviors

> Absences

> Group level performance & turnover rates

> Corroborating evidence from US, Canada, China, India, South East Asia, Western Europe, Middle East, North Africa

(GOOD) CONVENTIONAL WISDOM

> Assess job satisfaction & organizational commitment

> Exit interviews

> Make appropriate changes (follow through!)

> Supervision, pay and work design are traditional factors
PRACTICAL IMPLICATIONS OF JOB EMBEDDEDNESS

> Organizational links
  – Provide mentors
  – Design work in teams
  – Foster team cohesion
  – Encourage employee referrals

> Community links
  – Encourage, support & create community involvement
  – (service/volunteering, sports/recreation, family involvement)

PRACTICAL APPLICATIONS CONTINUED...

> Organizational sacrifice
  – Tie financial incentives to tenure
  – Provide unique incentives (e.g., sabbaticals)

> Community Sacrifice
  – Encourage home ownership (e.g., home buyer assistance)
  – Develop career paths that do not require relocation
PRACTICAL IMPLICATIONS

- Dealing with scripts
  - Change work inducements to alter scripts
  - Tailor responses to common scripts (e.g., revise maternity or family support practices in response to “local demand”)

- Dealing with Shocks
  - Provide training to deal with negative shocks (e.g., how to provide negative feedback)
  - Provide realistic previews to minimize shocks
  - Provide support mechanisms to help employees deal with shocks (informal grievance procedures, flexible schedules)

TAKEAWAYS FOR MANAGERS
(DRAWN FROM LEE, HOM, EBERLY & LI, 2018, ORGANIZATIONAL DYNAMICS)

- Reliable, reasonably valid predictors & explanations:
  - job satisfaction or organizational commitment
  - job alternatives
  - active job search
  - avoidance behaviors (absenteeism/lateness)
  - specific intentions to quit

- Adequate predictors and explanations include engagement, empowerment, judgments of organizational fairness
MORE TAKEAWAYS FOR MANAGERS...

> Turnover is not always a planned, slow or dissatisfaction-induced.
> Turnover can happen quickly because of certain triggering events. Plan/prevent them, enact plans to neutralize (e.g., make counteroffers).
> Note: Millennials hold different values & goals
  – increased focus on purpose, personal development
> Note: Both stayers and leavers may be reluctant
  (they have to, they don’t want to)

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR MANAGERS

> Analyze data to learn what predicts turnover and adopt an evidence-based orientation to managerial decision making and judgments.
> Move to at least three employee surveys a year.
  – Track responses and data over the year & across years (e.g., trajectories by individuals or work groups)
> In addition to attitudes, measure:
  – enthusiastic stayers (I want to stay and I can stay)
  – enthusiastic leavers (I want to leave and I can leave)
  – reluctant leavers (I want to stay but I must leave)
  – reluctant stayers (I want to leave but I must stay)
EVEN MORE TAKEAWAYS...

> Explain turnover rates with your data on satisfaction (or commitment), alternatives, embeddedness, enthusiastic stayers and leavers, and reluctant stayers and leavers.
> Use managerial judgment about which ideas would work (contextualize your data).

People & organizational effectiveness

> Knowledge, creative, risk taking, innovation, and old fashion work effort
> Management in 2019, 2014 or 2024?
> Mohammed Wong vs. statistical average
> Articulated & informed judgment
THANK YOU
